HEATWAVE HITS WRINKLE CITY

Temperatures of over 98 degrees have forced some Wrinklecitians to stay inside where they can stay live in air conditioned luxury while others just sit in front of a fan with a block of ice in front of the fan.

Others just sit in their above ground pool, stand under the sprinkler or head down to the old swimmin hole like Schitz Creek.

Some people decide to modify their clothing to let more air in or head to HappyBunz and just let it all hang out!

Weather reports predict we are in for a heat wave during August and September.

WEEDS ATTACK WRINKLE CITY

Due to the extreme heat and dry spell, the weeds have risen to the surface and are attacking curbs, sidewalks, yards and vacant lots.

It seems despite some of the measures the city has been taking with regard to keeping the weeds under control, the heat has been causing the weeds to spread several times over. Mayor Alton J. Souhey is urging everyone to use a mix of vinegar, Epsom salts, liquid dawn and water to spray their weeds which should cause them to wither to appear in front of the municipal judge next month.

CITY MANAGER ANNOUNCES CUTS AND ADDITIONAL TAXES

Last month City Manager Virgil Tinzley presented a sad financial scenario to the city commissioners in a recent meeting at City Hall.

"Due to the decreasing income taxes coming into the city, we need to make several budgetary and tax adjustments and we are on course to lose approximately $1.5 million dollars in revenue" Tinzley said.

To date the police department has reduced its patrolling hours to 8 hours per day with a 2 hour lunch break and police officers must use bikes for patrol units whenever possible. Should an emergency occur during the lunch break, citizens may call Rachel's Donutz Dunk 'N Dip.

The fire department has also been reduced in staff by two firemen and the purchase of a new fire truck has been delayed until further tax dollars come in.

Tinzley signed an executive order requiring the furlough of all non-essential staff for one week per month, but later rescinded the order as it also included him.

Fees for outhouse inspection have increased to $50 per visit and $10 per hole. Multi-family units get a $5 discount.

Additional fees for anyone having more than two cars on blocks on their front yard or more than 3 refrigerators on their front porch will receive a $200 citation after the second notice.

AND MASK

REQUIREMENT

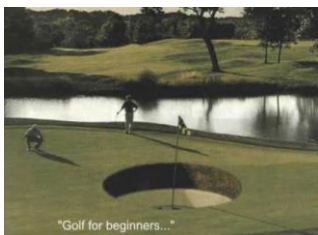

The Happy Bunz Clothing Optional Society opened in late June to a limited number of campers due to the China Bug epidemic, unsocial distancing and mmask requirements imposed by Governor McDermitt Feckless.

“We used to average 2000 campers a day” said owner Orville Bunz. “Business was boomin in 2019 and we have to constantly keep our customers satisfied” said Fern Bunz, wife and co-owner. “However, 2020 has reduced our size to only 500 due to the epidemic and restrictions,” she said. “We are still selling bug repellent in the camp store and have added disposable masks and disinfectant spray.

Daily activities still included co-ed jogging, bad / awful mittin, yoga for beginners, mooning as a second hobby, poisonous plant identification, how to throw darts and protect your naughty parts and proper sunning etiquette.

The camp is located next to the beginner course at the Echo Pond Golf Course.

GOLF COURSE ATTENDANCE BOOMING

Toots Kowalsi, Echo Pond Golf Course Pro announced to the city commission that the beginner course concession stand at Echo Pond has had a phenomenal growth in business in 2019, but has had to restrict golf to the putt – putt course due to the Wuhan Bug.. “We have over 30 golfers a day visit the stand, but they miss their Tee Times due to the activity at the club next door.” “The putt - putt course is a busy place due to the activity at Happy Bunz” said Toots. “The beginner’s concession stand made a lot of money for us last year thanks to the Golden Boyz and we want to continue a rise in the profits!” exclaimed Kowalski. “We had hoped to sell a lot of drinks and sun-blocker to the golfers” he said, but the profits are slim this year.

Corporate America

The game of choice for unemployed people or maintenance level workers is basketball.

The game of choice for frontline workers is football.

The game of choice for middle management is tennis.

The game of choice for CEOs and executives is golf.

Conclusion: The higher up on the corporate ladder you are, the smaller your balls are.

GOLF TALES FROM THE 19TH HOLE

By Toots Kowalski
Golfing in Heaven

Three golfers, Jesus, Moses and an old man, get to the 18th tee. It's all tied. All three have the same score.

Jesus' second shot goes into the water and lands on a rock. He walks on the water out to the ball and hits it within a foot of the hole.

Moses' second shot also goes into the water and sinks. He parts the water and then hits his ball within a foot of the hole.

The old man also hits his second shot into the water, but it lands on a water lily. A frog comes out of the water and takes the ball. Just then a bird swoops down and grabs the frog and carries him, with the ball, right over the 18th hole where the frog drops the ball right into the cup.

Moses turns to Jesus and says, "You know, I really hate playing with your Dad."

RELIGIOUSLY SPEAKING

By Pastor Geraldine Dibley

An Irishman goes into the confessional box after years of being away from the Church.

There's a fully equipped bar with Guinness on tap.

On the other wall is a dazzling array of the finest cigars and chocolates.

Then the priest comes in.

"Father, forgive me, for it's been a very long time since I've been to confession, but I must first admit that the confessional box is much more inviting than it used to be.

"The priest replies: "Get out. You're on my side."

A Theory of Creation

God created the mule, and told him, "You will be mule, working constantly from dusk to dawn, carrying heavy loads on your back. You will eat grass and lack intelligence. You will live for 50 years."

The mule answered, "To live like this for 50 years is too much. Please, give me no more than 20." And it was so.

Then God created the dog, and told him, "You will hold vigilance over the dwellings of Man, to whom you will be his greatest companion. You will eat his table scraps and live for 25 years."

And the dog responded, "Lord, to live 25 years as a dog like that is too much. Please, no more than 10 years." And it was so.

God then created the monkey, and told him, "You are monkey. You shall swing from tree to tree, acting like an idiot. You will be funny, and you shall live for 20 years."

And the monkey responded, "Lord, to live 20 years as the clown of the world is too much. Please, Lord, give me no more than 10 years." And it was so.

Finally, God created Man and told him, "You are Man, the only rational being that walks the earth. You will use your intelligence to have mastery over the creatures of the world. You will dominate the earth and live for 20 years."

And the man responded, "Lord, to be Man for only 20 years is too little. Please, Lord, give me the 30 years the mule refused, the 15 years the dog refused, and the 10 years the monkey rejected." And it was so.

And so God made Man to live 20 years as a man, then marry and live 30 years like a mule working and carrying heavy loads on his back. Then, he is to have children and live 15 years as a dog, guarding his house and eating the leftovers after they empty the pantry; then, in his old age, to live 10 years as a monkey, acting like an idiot to amuse his grand children.

GRUMPIN AROUND TOWN

WITH GRUMP

By Falworth T. Grump

Everywhere I go I hear people talkin' about taxes going up and up, hhaving to practice "unsocial distancing," mask wearing and walkin around with a can of Lysol spray to keep the cooties away. Don't people realize there is only so much money and sanity available!

Everybody wants more, more, more but aren't willing to pay for it. In addition to that, people are becoming hypochondriacs.

I say live within your means and use hand sanitizer.

The essobeez need to wake up and smell the coffee!!!

Grump out!

You Might Be From Wrinkle City If ...

1. You've cleaned hubcaps in a dishwasher.
2. The only time you pick up trash is during community service.
3. Your only insurance policy is "drive careful."
4. You've launched fireworks off a propane tank.

5. You think a vegetarian is that dude who neutered your Rottweiler.
6. The only time you have a candlelit dinner is when you're late on your electric bill.
7. You fish coins out of outhouses.
8. Your 2 year old has more teeth than you do.
9. When you cleaned up after a party using a leaf blower.
10. When flushing your toilet takes two hands.
11. When your brother-in-law is your uncle.
12. When the tallest building you've ever seen is a water tower.
13. When your wedding toast was in Styrofoam cups.
14. When you have beer on tap in every room of the house.
15. When you read the Wrinkle City Gazette and forward it on to someone else!
