RECALL ELECTION PLANNED

P.U.N.T. (People UNited Together) was successful in obtaining the necessary signatures on a recall petition for all of the Wrinkle City Commissioners including Mayor Alton J. Souhey. The petitions were circulated at the various church social gatherings an suppers and signed by conservative commissioners. "We don't need commissioners who make foolish mistakes" said Reeva Swackhammer of the local Church of the Covered Dish. "They ain't got sense one when it comes to growing the town ..." "They ain't got any idea how a city needs to be run" she said.

The election will be run on June 8.

The challenging candidates have yet to come forward.

GOLDEN BOYZ ATTEND SPORTS EXHIBITION IN COLUMBUS

Approximately 16 of the Golden Boyz Golf Society attended the 27th Annual Golf Show Exhibition in Columbus so they could get ideas on how to improve their golf game in 2018.

The group was led by local golf pro Toots Kowalski and transportation was provided by Flatbakker Tours.

"The 3 hour trip to the exhibition was fine even though the bus stopped several times to pick up illegal aliens" said Kowalski.

"The Golf Show had some of the newest equipment and indoor games for brushing up your skills in the winter so you could save money and not go to Florida in January!" exclaimed Toots.

Dickie Brandewine won a crying towel while Bud Strawman won the ball washer soap.

ROUNDAABOUT CONSTRUCTION BEGINS; TOLL BOOTHS PLANNED

Construction has begun on Wrinkle City's first roundabout which should be completed in the Fall of 2018. The initial cost of the traffic circle was $1.3 million with the state to provide $300,000. The rest will be local funds. To finance the project, the city will install toll booths at each corner of the intersection and will charge 50 cents per entry and will provide a map for people to navigate the mess.

WCS BOARD OFFICE TO RELOCATE

The Wrinkle City School Board of Education office will be relocating to the northeastern corner of the new roundabout on Gabby Road. It is hoped the confusion of navigating the roundabout will keep nagging citizens from attending the monthly board meetings to throw rotten tomatoes and eggs on the board members who complain about their kid's edumacation.

By Falworth T. Grump

Spring is sprung. The grass is rizz. I wonder where my weed killer is!

Yepper! It's spring time in Wrinkle City and the weeds are popping out all over! There's nothing like a perfectly manicured lawn with a couple of dandelions in the middle of it ready to spread all over and make your yard look like a dump in two weeks.

Get out that weed spray and keep your freekin weeds out of my yard!

Grump out!

YOU KNOW WHEN YOU'RE FROM WRINKLE CITY...

When you're the final owner of every car you buy.

When you've been hospitalized at the UMVC Band Aid Station for a pain in the butt and they've run $50,000 worth of tests only to find you got a wedgie up yer crack!

When all the girls on your high school drill team are now strippers at Boobs 'N Beer.

When the only time your home gets dusted is for fingerprints.

When the tattoo parlor artist is the wealthiest man in town.

When your city manager wants to charge you tolls for roundabout.

When you've ever pulled a boat behind your truck in a funeral procession.

When you have to wait for your mechanic to get out of jail to fix your transmission.

When both you and your wife wore ponytails on your wedding day.

When you're in a restaurant and have to send your kids to the car to get your false teeth.

When your bar tab at Lusch's has page numbers.

RELIGIOUS HUMOR

by Rev. Geraldine Dibley

After a preacher died and went to heaven, he noticed that a New York cab driver had been awarded a higher place than he.

"I don't understand," he complained to God. "I devoted my entire life to my congregation."

"Our policy here in heaven is to reward results," God explained. "Now, was your congregation well attuned to you whenever you gave a sermon?"

"Well," the minister had to admit, "some in the congregation fell asleep from time to time."

"Exactly," said God, "and when people rode in this man's taxi, they not only stayed awake, they even prayed."

How long have you been married?

When a woman on the staff of the school where I worked became engaged, a friend and colleague offered her some advice. 'The first ten years are the hardest.'

'How long have you been married?' she asked. 'Ten years', he replied.

FROM THE 19TH HOLE: WINTER GOLF TALES

By Toots Kowalski

I want to buy a golf ball

A blonde golfer goes into the pro shop and looks around frowning.

Finally the pro asks her what she wants. "I can't find any green golf balls," the blonde golfer complains.

The pro looks all over the shop, and through all the catalogs, and finally calls the manufacturers and determines that sure enough, there are no green golf balls.

As the blonde golfer walks out the door in disgust, the pro asks her, "Before you go, could you tell me why you want green golf balls?"

"Well obviously, because they would be so much easier to find in the sand traps!"

Mortal Humor

By Emerson Balmer, Amigone Funeral Services

A funeral service is being held for a woman who has just passed away. At the end of the service, the pallbearers are carrying the casket out when they accidentally bump into a wall, jarring the casket. They hear a faint moan. They open the casket and find that the woman is actually alive! She lives for ten more years, and then dies. Once again, a ceremony is held, and at the end of it, the pallbearers are again carrying out the casket. As they carry the casket towards the door, the husband cries out, 'Watch that wall!'

An old Brethren preacher was dying. He sent a message for his Congressman and his Lawyer, both church members, to come to his home. When they arrived, they were ushered up to his bedroom. As they entered the room, the preacher held out his hands and motioned for them to sit on each side of the bed. The preacher grasped their hands, sighed contentedly, smiled and stared at the ceiling.

For a time, no one said anything. Both the Congressman and Lawyer were touched and flattered that the old preacher would ask them to be with him during his final moment. They were also puzzled; the preacher had never given them any indication that he particularly liked either of them. They both remembered his many long, uncomfortable sermons about greed, covetousness and their avaricious behavior that made them squirm in their seats.

Finally, the doctor said, "Preacher, why did you ask the two of us to come?"

The old preacher mustered up some strength, then said weakly, "Jesus died between two thieves ... and that's how I want to go."

Life's short. Make the most of it with a sense of humor before they pull the plug

At Amigone, we think of everything!

We do mouse funerals too!

Russ & Sam

Russ and Sam, two friends, met in the park every day to feed the pigeons, watch the squirrels and discuss world problems.

One day Russ didn't show up Sam didn't think much about it and figured maybe he had a cold or something.. But after Russ hadn't shown up for a week or so, Sam really got worried.

However, since the only time they ever got together was at the park, Sam didn't know where Russ lived, so he was unable to find out what had happened to him.

A month had passed, and Sam figured he had seen the last of Russ, but one day, Sam approached the park and-- lo and behold! -- there sat Russ! Sam was very excited and happy to see him and told him so.

Then he said, 'For crying out loud Russ, what in the world happened to you?'

Russ replied, 'I have been in jail!' 'ail' cried Sam. What in the world for?'

'Well,' Russ said, 'you know Sue, that cute little blonde waitress at the coffee shop where I sometimes go?' 'Yeah,' said Sam, 'I remember her. What about her?'

'Well, the little gold-digging witch figured I was rich and she filed rape charges against me; and, at 89 years old, I was so proud that when I got into court, I pleaded 'guilty'.

'The judge gave me 30 days for perjury.'
